FR. ERIC – RAMBLINGS

UPDATE REGARDING CHURCH CAPACITY

On April 8, 2021 the governor signed a health order that states: “Other than the Facial Coverings (Masks) requirements of this Order, the Social Distancing, Congregating and capacity requirements of the Order do not apply to religious observances.”

While the dispensation from the Sunday obligation remains in place, Archbishop Schnurr is keenly aware of the pressure upon our parish communities relative to seating capacity. Maintaining the other protocols in accord with the orders of State of Ohio health authorities (i.e. masking) and the archdiocesan guidelines Worship Together Safely, pastors may increase the potential capacity of church buildings, subject to any limitations by local health authorities (e.g. county board of health, city health department), which we have contacted and they have placed no special requirements for Miami County. The Miami County has instructed that masks/ facial coverings must be worn.

Beginning on Monday, May 10, 2021, Transfiguration and St. Patrick parishes will be removing the ropes from most of the pews. We will be designating a section in each church for those individuals who wish to maintain physical distancing. St. Patrick's designated section will be the front half of the pews in front of the Sacred Heart Statue. That section will remain with the roped off pews. We will continue to clean and sanitize, and follow all other health recommendations. Distribution of Holy Communion will continue with the same pattern as we have been using throughout the past year.

NOVENA TO THE HOLY SPIRIT...

The Novena in honor of the Holy Spirit is the oldest of all Novenas, since it was first made at the direction of Our Lord Himself when He sent His apostles back to Jerusalem to await the coming of the Holy Ghost on the first Pentecost. It is still the only Novena officially prescribed by the Church. Addressed to the Third Person of the Blessed Trinity, it is a powerful plea for the light and strength and love so sorely needed by every Christian. I am requesting that we pray this Novena for our families and our world.

There will be a link on the website for the Novena, which consists of a different prayer for each day of the Novena. The Novena will begin on Saturday, May 15 and conclude on Pentecost Sunday, May 23rd.

To encourage devotion to the Holy Spirit, the Church has enriched this Novena with the following indulgences: Those who make a private Novena in honor of the Holy Spirit, either before the Solemn Feast of Pentecost or at any other time in the year, may also gain a partial indulgence for themselves or as an offering for the intentions of the faithful departed.

A New Chapter

The death of a loved one is difficult, and the death of a child is life altering. It has been over 5 years since the death of our son, Liam. Julie, MariCait and I, agree we need a change of perspective in order to continue healing to become the best versions of ourselves. Over the course of the past few months, I have been asked to spend a great deal more time ministering at both Incarnation and St. Patrick parishes. Both parishes have been wonderful in helping me to grow in ministering to God’s people and I thought I would continue for many years.

As some of you know, our family enjoys spending time in Northern Michigan, and Julie and I had planned to retire there when the time came. However, sometimes God has other plans. When God presents an opportunity, we must take the (sometimes scary) steps needed to follow His plan.

Recently, an opportunity has presented itself and Julie and I are taking a leap of faith to follow His calling. I have accepted a position in the Diocese of Saginaw, Michigan, as a Director of Parish Life. I will be supporting the bishop, as an administrator to 3 farming community parishes. Over the course of the next few weeks, Julie and I will be selling our home in Troy and moving north. We do not know what the future will hold for us but we are excited to see where the Spirit will guide us. We still have a few things we need to finish in Troy, and I am confident we will return for visits.

As we travel through life, sometimes we are asked to do things that are difficult, and it can feel like the timing isn’t perfect. However, we must trust in God’s plan and follow where He leads us. We will never be able to repay all who have helped us through the years. Both the Troy community and the parishioners of St. Patrick parish, have opened your hearts and homes to our family and for that we will always be grateful. We thank you again for helping and loving our family through a very difficult time in our lives. We look forward to the day when we will enjoy each other’s company again.

In God’s Love,
The Gillespie Family
Deacon David, Julie and MariCait

STAY THE COURSE

Reflection on Mark 16:15-20

I must admit that I prefer the ending of Matthew's Gospel to how Mark ends his gospel today. In Matthew, we are given the Great Commission to go forth and make disciples of all nations, through baptizing and teaching. This is a good discipleship plan. Mark, on the other hand, mentions the signs that accompany believers; picking up snakes, drinking deadly poisons and picking fights with demons are not so much a part of my mission plan, my strategy for discipleship.

We live in this in-between time – after the ascension of Jesus and before He comes again – in divine empowerment for the Gospel dream. Through the power of the Holy Spirit poured into each of us, we are given the mission to face everything – good or ill – with the courage and faith of a believer, a disciple. These graces are continually renewed in us through the sacramental life of the Church, especially in the Eucharist.

The first and most important mandate/direction for us in defining our mission is to stay close to its source of energy and empowerment and allow the graces of the sacraments to always unfold in our lives. For without Christ, without the Holy Spirit, we can do nothing.

~ Fr. Jay

SAINT BERNARDINE OF SIENA

Feast Day: May 20 • Patron Saint of Advertising and Communications

Most of the saints suffered great personal opposition, even persecution. Bernardine, by contrast, seems more like a human dynamo who simply took on the needs of the world.

He was the greatest preacher of his time, journeying across Italy, calming strife-torn cities, attacking the paganism he found rampant, attracting crowds of 30,000, following Saint Francis of Assisi's admonition to preach about "vice and virtue, punishment and glory."

At 22, he entered the Franciscan Order and was ordained two years later. For almost a dozen years he lived in solitude and prayer, but his gifts ultimately caused him to be sent to preach. He always traveled on foot, sometimes speaking for hours in one place, then doing the same in another town.

Especially known for his devotion to the Holy Name of Jesus, Bernardine devised a symbol—IHS, the first three letters of the name of Jesus in Greek – in Gothic letters on a blazing sun. This was to displace the superstitious symbols of the day, as well as the insignia of factions: for example, Guelphs and Ghibellines. The devotion spread, and the symbol began to appear in churches, homes and public buildings. Opposition arose from those who thought it a dangerous innovation. Three attempts were made to have the pope take action against him, but Bernardine's holiness, orthodoxy, and intelligence were evidence of his faithfulness.

General of the Friars of the Strict Observance, a branch of the Franciscan Order, Bernardine strongly emphasized scholarship and further study of theology and canon law. When he started there were 300 friars in the community; when he died there were 4,000. He returned to preaching the last two years of his life, dying while traveling.
