PRAYER TO SAINT PHILOMENA FOR THE SUCCESS OF BEACONS OF LIGHT

O faithful virgin and glorious martyr, Saint Philomena, who works so many miracles on behalf of the poor and sorrowful, have pity on me. Thou knowest the multitude and diversity of my needs. Behold me at thy feet, full of misery, but full of hope. I entreat thy charity, O great Saint. Graciously hear me and obtain from God a favorable answer to the request which I now humbly lay before you (here specify your petition). I am firmly convinced that through the merits, through the scorn, the sufferings and the death thou didst endure, united to the merits of the Passion and Death of Jesus thy Spouse, I shall obtain what I ask of thee and the joy of my heart I will bless God, who is admirable in His saints. Amen.

FR. ERIC – RAMBLINGS

ALL SOULS' DAY...

All Souls' Day is November 2 and as such, we will be celebrating the Mass of All Souls' Day at 7:00 p.m. to remember in a special way those who have preceded us in death this past year.

Pope St. John Paul II stated at the Angelus address in 1997:

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Yesterday, we celebrated the Solemnity of All Saints and today the liturgy invites us to commemorate the faithful departed. The Church links her contemplation of those who have already attained God's glory with her remembrance of those who have gone before us marked with the sign of faith and who now sleep in peace (cf. Roman Canon).

I spiritually join all who in these days are visiting the graves of their departed ones in the cemeteries of Rome and the whole world. I go on spiritual pilgrimage especially to where the victims of violence and war, of injustice and hunger are buried. May Jesus, who said: "I am the resurrection and the life" (Jn 11:25), grant to all the departed the rest of the just and the fullness of eternal life.

The Church's tradition has always recommended prayers for the dead. The basis for this prayer of suffrage is found in the communion of the Mystical Body. As the Second Vatican Council stresses: "In full consciousness of this communion of the whole Mystical Body of Jesus Christ, the Church in her pilgrim members, from the very earliest days of the Christian religion, has honored with great respect the memory of the dead" (Lumen gentium, n. 50).

Therefore, she encourages cemetery visits, the care of graves and prayers of suffrage as a witness of confident hope, amid the sorrow of being separated from one's loved ones. Death is not the last word on human fate, because man is destined for endless life, which finds its fulfilment in God.

For this reason, the Council emphasizes: "Faith, with its solidly based teaching, provides every thoughtful man with an answer to his anxious queries about his future lot. At the same time it makes him able to be united in Christ with his loved ones who have already died, and gives hope that they have found true life in God" (Gaudium et spes, n. 18).

With this belief in man's ultimate destiny, we now turn to Mary, who experienced the drama of Christ's death at the foot of the Cross and then shared in the joy of His Resurrection. May she, the Gate of Heaven, help us more and more to understand the value of praying for our departed loved ones. May she sustain us each day on our earthly pilgrimage and help us never to lose sight of the ultimate goal of life, which is paradise." To all who have lost a loved one, please know I share your pain and your grief and will continue to lift you all up in prayer and I ask the same.

QUESTIONS

Reflection on Mark 12:28b-34

“And no one dared to ask him any more questions.” Really? I doubt that.

A good teacher, and Jesus was the best, loves questions. Questions, when asked in sincerity and with a desire for deeper understanding, always lead the conversation between teacher and student(s) to profound places of not just new knowledge, but also to making connections and to wisdom. For the questioning scribe in this story, it led to Jesus’ observation that he was “not far from the kingdom of God.” Wow! Isn’t that where we all want to be? If not in God’s kingdom, then at least not far from it.

In my journey of discipleship over these last 6+ decades, I have discovered that age and wisdom continue to bring forth more questions than answers. Or maybe the questions just keep getting more refined or retuned, until I finally am asking the right ones.

“Which is the first of all the commandments?” Return this week, as often as you can, to this scribe’s question, and meditate on Jesus’ answer “to love God and to love your neighbor.” What does this look like for you when acted upon? Who is your neighbor?

~ Fr. Jay

THE COMMEMORATION OF ALL THE FAITHFUL DEPARTED (ALL SOULS' DAY)

Feast Day: November 2

The Church has encouraged prayer for the dead from the earliest times as an act of Christian charity. “If we had no care for the dead,” Augustine noted, “we would not be in the habit of praying for them.” Yet pre-Christian rites for the deceased retained such a strong hold on the superstitious imagination that a liturgical commemoration was not observed until the early Middle Ages, when monastic communities began to mark an annual day of prayer for the departed members.

In the middle of the 11th century, Saint Odilo, abbot of Cluny, France, decreed that all Cluniac monasteries offer special prayers and sing the Office for the Dead on November 2, the day after the feast of All Saints. The custom spread from Cluny and was finally adopted throughout the Roman Church.

The theological underpinning of the feast is the acknowledgment of human frailty. Since few people achieve perfection in this life but, rather, go to the grave still scarred with traces of sinfulness, some period of purification seems necessary before a soul comes face-to-face with God.

Whether or not one should pray for the dead is one of the great arguments which divide Christians. Appalled by the abuse of indulgences in the Church of his day, Martin Luther rejected the concept of purgatory. Yet prayer for a loved one is, for the believer, a way of erasing any distance, even death. In prayer we stand in God’s presence in the company of someone we love, even if that person has gone before us into death.
