MINISTRY OF CARE – REMINDER

There have been many requests lately from parishioners who are in the need of a little help, such as a ride to church, doctor appointment, pick up prescriptions, respite care, meals and maybe even a little help around the home. A few months ago we put together a Ministry of Care.

We asked for volunteers to help provide any of these tasks that they would be willing to do and several did so and we truly appreciate their help. We can always use more volunteers, so if you feel you are able to help in any way, just sign up by calling Pat Cartwright in the office at 937-335-2833.

Remember, if you are called and unable to do it at the time, just say you are not available; there is no commitment.

We also want to be sure if you are a parishioner in the need of any of this help or something else, your parish family is here for you so please call the parish office to ask for the help you may need.

God's Blessings.

A NOTE FROM THE CHOIR LOFT:

As some of you know, I contracted COVID-19 during December of 2021. While my symptoms were relatively mild, my illness did leave me with little to no singing voice. Thankfully, I have been assured by my ENT that my voice will return with some therapy and time. While we wait for my voice to return, you will likely notice an increase in instrumental music at Mass. Most notably, at the Masses I lead, the Offertory and Communion Hymns will be replaced by instrumental organ selections as opposed to sung hymns; this is to give my voice the opportunity to rest and heal. I am hopeful that in not pushing my voice too far too early, I will be able to return to singing Masses stronger than ever in the near future. Finally, we still have a great need for Cantors at the 5:00 p.m., 7:30 a.m., and 9:30 a.m. Masses. If you or someone you know would be a good fit for Cantoring, please do not hesitate to reach out. No experience is needed; just a positive attitude.

You can contact me at mwagner@stpattroy.org.

ONLY LOVE DEFINES AND HAS AUTHORITY OVER US

Reflection on Luke 4:21-30

The opening lines of the novel, Damaged, have always inspired my notion of the word "home:" "There is an internal landscape, a geography of the soul; we search for its outlines all our lives. Those who are lucky enough to find it ease like water over a stone, onto its fluid contours, and are home."

The experience of Jesus in this Gospel story seems to align with the adage, "You can't go home again." After quoting from the prophet Isaiah, Jesus announces its fulfillment in Him and His mission, and His homies react with anger and fury. Behind all this is the sin of presumption – they already know who He is.

We spend our lifetimes coming home to the realization that whatever we think we might know about God and His ways, the true and final mystery eludes us, until we are swept up into the Presence of the love that loves us and takes us to itself. As James Finley, teacher and therapist observes, the true geography of our souls is that brokenness has no authority at all over us. Rather only Love defines us and has authority over us.

~ Fr. Jay

SAINT JOHN BOSCO

Feast Day: January 31

Patron of Boys, Editors, Educators/Teachers, Youth

John Bosco's theory of education could well be used in today's schools. It was a preventive system, rejecting corporal punishment and placing students in surroundings removed from the likelihood of committing sin. He advocated frequent reception of the Sacraments of Penance and Holy Communion. He combined catechetical training and fatherly guidance, seeking to unite the spiritual life with one's work, study and play.

Encouraged during his youth in Turin to become a priest so he could work with young boys, John was ordained in 1841. His service to young people started when he met a poor orphan in Turin, and instructed him in preparation for receiving Holy Communion. He then gathered young apprentices and taught them catechism.

After serving as chaplain in a hospice for working girls, Don Bosco opened the Oratory of St. Francis de Sales for boys. Several wealthy and powerful patrons contributed money, enabling him to provide two workshops for the boys, shoemaking and tailoring.

By 1856, the institution had grown to 150 boys and had added a printing press for publication of religious and catechetical pamphlets. John's interest in vocational education and publishing justify him as patron of young apprentices and Catholic publishers.

John's preaching fame spread and by 1850, he had trained his own helpers because of difficulties in retaining young priests. In 1854, he and his followers informally banded together, inspired by Saint Francis de Sales.

With Pope Pius IX's encouragement, John gathered 17 men and founded the Salesians in 1859. Their activity concentrated on education and mission work. Later, he organized a group of Salesian Sisters to assist girls.

John Bosco educated the whole person – body and soul united. He believed that Christ's love and our faith in that love should pervade everything we do – work, study, play. For John Bosco, being a Christian was a full-time effort, not a once-a-week, Mass-on-Sunday experience. It is searching and finding God and Jesus in everything we do, letting their love lead us. Yet, because John realized the importance of job-training and the self-worth and pride that come with talent and ability, he trained his students in the trade crafts, too.

ST. PATRICK DINNER CLUB: GUESS WHO'S COMING TO DINNER?

As of now, we do not have enough couples to make this happen. There have been some requests to bring back the St. Patrick Dinner Club. This is a wonderful way to get to know your fellow parishioners in a more intimate way. You just sign up to join in, and we put four couples or singles together. Each group decides when to meet and takes turns hosting. The host home provides the main course and coordinates other dishes with the guests. Prefer not to host? That is fine. Decide where to meet, perhaps at a restaurant instead. It's still a nice evening visiting. This is open to everyone, not just couples, so get ready for some fun times, good conversation and delicious food. Forms can be found in bookrack of church! Fill it out and place in collection basket or send in to the Parish Office by February 22.

SCHOOLHAPPY CATHOLIC SCHOOLS WEEK!

This week in the bulletin, we have our Catholic Schools Week flier. It lists all the fun things we are doing as a school to celebrate Catholic Schools. We are all excited and are praying for no snow this week. It's a tradition that there is always one day during this particular week that we have a snow day.

The theme for Catholic Schools Week is "Catholic Schools: Faith, Excellence, Service." I believe the most important word in that title is FAITH. We have the opportunity every single day to practice our faith and to grow in our faith. Our relationships and the students' relationships with Jesus are forefronts to all we do.

Being a principal in a Catholic School is a big responsibility. Not only are principals the leader in setting up an excellent education system, but we are also more importantly charged with helping each and every person in this building in growing in their faith and their relationship with Jesus. My job is made so much easier when you have the awesome staff we do, and having the staff with the same Catholic intentions helps all of us.

Growing in faith is a journey and we are dedicated to helping all the students and staff along this journey. We are all created to be Saints and along with the excellent education they receive they are supported and nurtured at St. Patrick Catholic School.

Thank you for your support!! We couldn't do this without you.
