ALIVE IN CHRIST

Reflection on Luke 20:27-38

"When brothers live together and one of them dies without a son, the widow of the deceased shall not marry anyone outside the family; but her husband's brother shall go to her and perform the duty of a brother-in-law by marrying her." (Deut 25:5) The Sadducees concoct their absurd story, referring to this levirate law from the book of Deuteronomy, in their attempt to ridicule Jesus and belief in the Resurrection.

Jesus simply uses logic to educate them about the Resurrection. First, He indicates that their idea of Resurrection is faulty; there is no marriage necessary in Resurrected Life because there is no need for the repopulation of the human community since there is no longer any dying. Second, quoting from the narrative of Moses' encounter with the burning bush, Jesus shows the great patriarchs, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob are still alive in God.

The conclusion, that "he is not God of the dead, but of the living, for to him all are alive," connects us with the great Communion of Saints, the cloud of witnesses, with whom we share the gift of life. Their Life: eternal happiness! Our Life: on the Way, with their prayers!

SAINT MARTIN OF TOURS

Feast Day: November 11

Patron Saint of: Horses

Born of pagan parents in what is now Hungary, and raised in Italy, this son of a veteran was forced at the age of 15 to serve in the army. Martin became a Christian catechumen and was baptized when he was 18. It was said that he lived more like a monk than a soldier. After great difficulties, he was discharged and went to be a disciple of Hilary of Poitiers.

Martin became a monk, living first at Milan and later on a small island. When Hilary was restored to his see following his exile, Martin returned to France and established what may have been the first French monastery near Poitiers. He lived there for 10 years, forming his disciples and preaching throughout the countryside.

The people of Tours demanded that he become their bishop. Martin was drawn to that city by a ruse—the need of a sick person—and was brought to the church, where he reluctantly allowed himself to be consecrated bishop. Martin rejected Bishop Ithacius' principle of putting heretics to death—as well as the intrusion of the emperor into such matters. He prevailed upon the emperor to spare the life of the heretic Priscillian. For his efforts, Martin was accused of the same heresy, and Priscillian was executed after all. He still felt he could cooperate with Ithacius in other areas, but afterwards his conscience troubled him about this decision.

Martin's worry about cooperation with evil reminds us that almost nothing is either all black or all white. The saints are not creatures of another world: They face the same perplexing decisions that we do. Any decision of conscience always involves some risk. A hyper-cautious withdrawal from all perplexing situations is not the virtue of prudence; it is in fact, a bad decision, for "not to decide is to decide."
